APPENDIX

Accredited Financial Counselor ® (AFC)

This designation is awarded by the Association of Financial Counseling and Planning Education (AFCPE®). Certification requirements include: Education, Examination, Industry Experience, and Ethics. An Accredited Financial Counselor should be able to demonstrate the ability to educate and assist individuals and families in the process of financial decision making, budgeting and planning.

Certified Financial Planner™

Certified Financial Planner Board of Standards, Inc. (“CFP Board”) owns the CFP® certification mark, the CERTIFIED FINANCIAL PLANNER™ certification mark, and the CFP® certification mark (with flame design) logo in the United States (these marks are collectively referred to as the “CFP® marks”). The CFP Board authorizes use of the CFP® marks by individuals who successfully complete the CFP Board’s initial and ongoing certification requirements.

The CFP® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CFP® certification. It is recognized in the United States and a number of other countries for its (1) high standard of professional education; (2) stringent code of conduct and standards of practice; and (3) ethical requirements that govern professional engagements with clients. Currently, more than 88,000 individuals have obtained CFP® certification.

To attain the right to use the CFP® marks, an individual must currently satisfactorily fulfill the following requirements:

- Education – Complete a college-level course of study addressing the financial planning subject areas that CFP Board’s studies have determined as necessary for the competent and professional delivery of financial planning services or an accepted equivalent, including completion of a financial plan development capstone course, and attain a Bachelor’s Degree from an accredited college or university. CFP Board’s financial planning subject areas include professional conduct and regulation, general principles of financial planning, education planning, risk management and insurance planning, investment planning, income tax planning, retirement savings and income planning, and estate planning;
- Examination – Pass the comprehensive CFP® Certification Examination. The examination, administered in 6 hours, includes case studies and client scenarios designed to test one’s ability to correctly diagnose financial planning issues and apply one’s knowledge of financial planning to real world circumstances;
- Experience – CFP Board requires 6,000 hours of experience through the Standard Pathway, or 4,000 hours of experience through the Apprenticeship Pathway that meets additional requirements; and
- Ethics – Agree to be bound by CFP Board’s Code of Ethics and Standards of Conduct, which put clients’ interest first; acknowledge CFP Board’s right to enforce them through its Disciplinary Rules and Procedures; comply with the Financial Planning Practice Standards which determine what clients should reasonably expect from the financial planning engagement and complete a CFP® Certification Application which requires disclosure of an individual’s background, including involvement in any criminal, civil, governmental, or self-regulatory agency proceeding or inquiry, bankruptcy, customer complaint, filing, termination/internal reviews conducted by the individual’s employer or firm.

Individuals who become certified must complete the following ongoing education and ethics requirements in order to maintain the right to continue to use the CFP® marks:

- Continuing Education – Complete 30 hours of continuing education hours accepted by the CFP Board every two years, including two hours on the Code of Ethics and other parts of the Standards of Professional Conduct, to maintain competence and keep up with developments in the financial planning field; and
- Ethics – CFP® professionals agree to adhere to the high standards of ethics and practice outlined in CFP Board’s Code of Ethics and Standards of Conduct and to acknowledge CFP Board’s right to enforce them through its Disciplinary Rules and Procedures. The Code of Ethics and Standards of Conduct require that CFP® professionals provide financial planning services in the best interests of their clients.

- Certification Application – Properly complete a Certification Application to (i) acknowledge voluntary adherence to the terms and conditions of certification with CFP Board and (ii) disclose any involvement in criminal and civil proceedings, inquiries or investigations, bankruptcy filings, internal reviews and customer complaints.

CFP® professionals who fail to comply with the above standards and requirements may be subject to CFP Board's enforcement process, which could result in suspension or permanent revocation of their CFP® certification.

You may verify an individual's CFP® certification and background through the CFP Board. The verification function will allow you to verify an individual's certification status, CFP Board's disciplinary history and any bankruptcy disclosures in the past ten years. Additional regulatory information may also be found through FINRA's BrokerCheck and the SEC's Investment Adviser Public Disclosure databases, which are free tools that may be used to conduct research on the background and experience of CFP® professionals and those who held CFP® certification at one time, including with respect to employment history, regulatory actions, and investment-related licensing information, arbitrations, and complaints.

Certified Public Accountant (CPA)

CPAs are licensed and regulated by their state boards of accountancy. While state laws and regulations vary, the education, experience and testing requirements for licensure as a CPA generally include minimum college education (typically 150 credit hours with at least a baccalaureate degree and a concentration in accounting), minimum experience levels (most states require at least one year of experience providing services that involve the use of accounting, attest, compilation, management advisory, financial advisory, tax or consulting skills, all of which must be achieved under the supervision of or verification by a CPA), and successful passage of the Uniform CPA Examination. In order to maintain a CPA license, states generally require the completion of 40 hours of continuing professional education (CPE) each year (or 80 hours over a two-year period or 120 hours over a three-year period). Additionally, all American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA) members are required to follow a rigorous Code of Professional Conduct which requires that they act with integrity, objectivity, due care, competence, fully disclose any conflicts of interest (and obtain client consent if a conflict exists), maintain client confidentiality, disclose to the client any commission or referral fees, and serve the public interest when providing financial services. The vast majority of state boards of accountancy have adopted the AICPA's Code of Professional Conduct within their state accountancy laws or have created their own. In addition to the Code of Professional Conduct, AICPA members who provide personal financial planning services are required to follow the Statement on Standards in Personal Financial Planning Services (SSPFPS).

Series 65

The Series 65 is an exam administered by the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA). Successful completion of the Series 65 is required in certain states in America in order for an investment professional to qualify for registration as an Investment Advisor Representative.

Series 66

The Series 66 is an exam administered by the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA). Successful completion of the Series 66 exam is equivalent to the successful completion of both the Series 63 and Series 65 exams and is required in certain states in America in order for an investment professional to qualify for registration as an Investment Advisor Representative.

Certified Student Loan Professional (CSLP®)

This designation is awarded by the Certified Student Loan Advisors Board of Standards and is used by financial professionals who seek to provide information to clients about how to efficiently repay student loans within the larger scope of their financial plans. Certification requires individuals to have two years of industry experience in financial services or hold a bachelor's degree in business or finance from an accredited college or university. Individuals must also hold a license or registration in a regulated financial services industry (brokerage, investment adviser services, insurance). Unlicensed individuals providing coaching services may qualify for the certificate program subject to the verification of business and individual qualifications. Designees are required to complete an annual competency exam to ensure that they continue to demonstrate the knowledge required to provide student loan repayment advice to clients.

Chartered Life Underwriter (CLU®)

The CLU® designation, issued by The American College, is designed to provide the holder with in-depth knowledge on the insurance needs of individuals, business owners and professional clients. Candidates must successfully complete a self-study course and examination program, have three years of relevant work experience and comply with a code of ethics. Continuing education for this designation requires 30 hours every two years.

Chartered Retirement Planning Counselor (CRPC®)

The College of Financial Planning® awards the CRPC® designation to applicants who complete the CRPC® professional education program, pass a final examination, commit to a code of ethics and agree to pursue continuing education. Continued use of the CRPC® designation is subject to ongoing renewal requirements. Every two (2) years the designee must renew their right to continue using the CRPC® designation by completing 16 hours of continuing education and reaffirming to abide by the Standards of Professional Conduct.

CFA® Charterholder

CFA® designates an international professional certificate that is offered by the CFA Institute. The Chartered Financial Analyst® (CFA®) charter is a globally respected, graduate-level investment credential established in 1962 and awarded by CFA Institute — the largest global association of investment professionals.

There are currently more than 170,000 CFA® Charterholders working in over 170 countries and regions. To earn the CFA® charter, candidates must: (1) pass three sequential, six-hour examinations; (2) have at least four years of qualified professional investment experience; (3) join CFA Institute as members; and (4) commit to abide by, and annually reaffirm, their adherence to the CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct.

High Ethical Standards

The CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct, enforced through an active professional conduct program, require CFA® Charterholders to:

- Place their clients' interests ahead of their own
- Maintain independence and objectivity
- Act with integrity
- Maintain and improve their professional competence
- Disclose conflicts of interest and legal matters

Global Recognition

Passing the three CFA exams is a difficult feat that requires extensive study (successful candidates report spending an average of 300 hours of study per level). Earning the CFA® charter demonstrates mastery of many of the advanced skills needed for investment analysis and decision making in today's quickly evolving global financial industry. As a result, employers and clients are increasingly seeking CFA® Charterholders —often making the charter a prerequisite for employment. Additionally, regulatory bodies in 38 countries/territories recognize the CFA® charter as a proxy for meeting certain licensing requirements, and more than 466 colleges and universities around the world have incorporated a majority of the CFA Program curriculum into their own finance courses.

Comprehensive and Current Knowledge

The CFA Program curriculum provides a comprehensive framework of knowledge for investment decision making and is firmly grounded in the knowledge and skills used every day in the investment profession. The three levels of the CFA Program test a proficiency with a wide range of fundamental and advanced investment topics, including ethical and professional standards, fixed-income and equity analysis, alternative and derivative investments, economics, financial reporting standards, portfolio management, and wealth planning.

The CFA Program curriculum is updated every year by experts from around the world to ensure that candidates learn the most relevant and practical new tools, ideas, and investment and wealth management skills to reflect the dynamic and complex nature of the profession.

Certified Estate Planner (CEP®)

The CEP® certification is issued by National Institute of Certified Estate Planners and is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CEP® certification. CEP® professionals must be licensed in either a financial, legal or tax profession and must complete eight modules of study in addition to a proctored exam. CEP® professionals are also required to complete eight hours of continuing education every two years in the area of estate planning.

National Social Security Advisor (NSSA®)

The NSSA® is issued by the National Social Security Association and is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold NSSA® certification. In order to pursue this designation, individuals must have a job function that includes advising clients about Social Security benefits choices. An NSSA® administered course and a certificate exam are also required. NSSA® professionals are required to complete eight hours of continuing education every two years.

Certified Investment Management Analyst® (CIMA®)

The CIMA® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold CIMA® certification. The CIMA® certification is accredited by American National Standards Institute (ANSI).

Prerequisites for the certification include 1) three years of financial services experience and 2) a satisfactory record of ethical conduct, as determined by Investments & Wealth Institute Admission Committee. Certificants must meet education requirements and must pass a Qualification Examination and Certification Examination.

CIMA® certificants must complete 40 hours of continuing education requirements every two years.

Certified Divorce Financial Analyst (CDFA®)

The CDFA® certification is a voluntary certification; no federal or state law or regulation requires financial planners to hold a CDFA® certification. The CDFA® certification is accredited by the Institute for Divorce Financial Analysts. CDFAs must have several years of relevant experience and pass an exam to provide knowledge of tax law, asset distribution, and financial planning to achieve equitable settlements for divorcing couples.

Prerequisites for the certification include a bachelor's degree with three years of on-the job experience, or if no bachelor's degree, five years of relevant experience. CDFA® certificants must complete 30 hours of divorce related continuing education requirements every two years.
